

No-Shows, Callbacks & Old Leads

Warmer, lower-pressure leads. Good for practice and your follow-up bank. Recovering 40%+ of no-shows is basically free bookings.

1. No-show (didn't turn up to Freeman's call)

Act immediately: call → text → email if needed.

"Hey [Name], looks like you weren't able to make the call with Freeman. Is everything OK? Let me know if you'd still like to reschedule and I'll see what availability we've got."

If they pick up:

"No worries, life happens. Before I rebook you, is this still something you genuinely want to move forward with? Freeman keeps those slots for people who are serious."

- Only rebook if they're still qualified. Re-check timeline and money briefly.
- Re-confirm commitment, resend the video, lock in the show again.
- No reply → status No Show → nurture with a dated follow-up task.

2. Cold feet before Freeman's call

"Totally get it. It's normal to have second thoughts before a big step. Can I ask what's changed since you booked?"

"Is it the money, the timing, or not being sure it'll work for you?"

Dig into the real reason. Remind them of their own why (from notes): "You told me you want [goal] because [reason]. Has that changed?" The call is just to see if it's a fit, with no obligation.

3. Callback you agreed

"Hey [Name], it's Tye from Freeman's team. You said [day/time] was good to pick up where we left off. Still a good time?"

Start from where you left off. Use your notes: "Last time you mentioned [thing]. Where are you at with that now?"

4. Old leads (webinar sign-ups, old Calendly, never progressed)

"Hi [Name], it's Tye from Freeman Richards' team. You showed interest in property / Airbnb a while back, so I just wanted to check in. Is it still something you're looking to get into?"

"What's changed since then? Are you in a better position to start now?"

Then qualify as normal and route. If not now → dated follow-up task (follow-up bank).

5. No reply after 3 days

Day	What to do
Day 1	Call AM + PM. Text: No Answer #1
Day 2	Call AM + PM. Text: No answer #2
Day 3	Call AM + PM. Text: No Answer #3 (last try)
After 6 attempts	Good lead (fit 6+) → Setter Pipeline. Otherwise → NGMI

Tip

Setter Pipeline leads get a check-in text after 2 weeks. That's your follow-up bank, next month's bookings.
